New York, Sept. 5.-The National As-

New York, Sept. 5 .-- It is generall beleved that the island of Martinique is comed to total destruction, and the fear is that when the catastrophe comes, Guadaloupe will be visited by an all-destructive tidal wave, cables the Point-a-Pitre, Guadaloupe, correspondent of the Herald. Business is absolutely at a standstill. Few shops are open, and if it were not for the efforts of a small number of more valiant souls, hundreds would starve to death thing and the ratification of the treaty here because of their fear of a more terrible death.

Details that have been received during the last two days prove that the erupicn of Mont Pelee of Aug. 30 was far more violent than any of the earlier explosions.

As the eruptions continue, the mouth of Mont Pelee grows in size. It is now of enormous proportions. Morne Lacroix, one of the peaks that reared skyward from the south side of Pelee has fallen bodily into the crater and has been completely swallowed. There seems to be a side pressure in the cra There ter and the burning chasm widens perceptibly every day.

Clouds no more hang about the crest of Mont Pelee. Th terrific heat seems to drive everything away. The column of flame and smoke rears directly into the heavens so that its top is lost to sight. In the darkness of the night it has the appearance of a stream of molten iron, standing fixed between heaven and earth. From Morne Cape the re-lief troops were compelled to make a quick retreat, although they succeeded in taking out a few wounded.

The entire country nearly to Fort de France is buried under a deep cover of ashes. This has made it almost impossible to find the bodies of those who have perished while fleeing to the sea-

Constantine Carra, one of the few who succeeded in escaping from Morne Rouge, after the explosion, found re-fuge on the steamer Esk. She was with 12 others in her house when Pelee gave its first warning of the disaster which it was about to pour upon the village. She said that the first explosion destroyed many houses. She was hurled with great force against the wall of the room in which she was sitting. On recovering from the shock, she ran out-side, and there saw three separate tongues of fire sweeping down from the mouth of the volcano. The earth shook with such great violence that she could not regain her feet. She was blinded by the glare of the flames. The heat was so terrific that her flesh was blistered. She awaited the death she believed to be inevitable. Fortunately the flames swept to one side of her and England Anti-Imperial league today the following declaration, signed by

The dispute of Martin and the janitor was begun on the fourth floor of the building when Martin stepped on the porch and asked for William Garloff, a former friend.

Garloff, a former friend.

After being informed that Garloff no longer lived in the building, Martin attempted to enter the kitched of Mrs. Alberta Baird, with whom Garloff had formerly lodged. Mrs. Baird then approached and after a few words with Martin appealed to the janitor to eject the visitor saying she had been insulted.

Hayner ordered Martin to leave the premises and on the latter's refusal picked up a chair to enforce the demand. The men fought down two flights of stairs. Hayner gained the lead, and, dashing into his apartments.

STATEMENT BY BALDWIN.

Explains Again Why He Did N

Reach the Pole. London, Sept. 4.-In response to a telegram from the Associated Press Evelyn B. Baldwin has telegraphed to the Associated Press an explanation of th cause of his failure to reach the pole and the cause of his dispute with Capt. Johanssen of the American, as

Tromsco, Norway, Sept. 4.—The public has been deceived by false reports regarding the expedition. Nearly every member has been faithful, and my comrades ought and must have due credit for their work in establishing large depots at Camp Zeigler during March, April and May. Sometimes they had to traverse the same route 10 times. Once traverse the same route 10 times. Open sea near the depot at Teplitz bay prevented us from reaching the Duke of Abruzzi's headquarters, and poor ice conditions in 1901, prevented us from es-tablishing depots 11th f 80 degrees 22 minutes. In this connection the death of half our dogs necessitated the post-ponement of going to the pole. Noth-ing favored returning via Greenland.

I believe the record of being farthest north could have been broken, but it would have exhausted our supplies and destroyed the hope of finally reaching the pole. Salling Master Johanssen's demands to become the America's master were untenable and unbearable. His threat, Dec. 15, to take possession of the ship as captain, and deal with the crew in accordance with his own will, might have spoiled the expedition's plan if enforced. The ice pilot, as well as the first mate, who had long experience in polar ice, is entitled to recognition.

Johanssen's refusal to obey the ice pilot's orders and his declared unwillingness to take the advice of my representatives on the sleigh expedition, together with other well-founded reasons stated to the American consid now here, caused his discharge and the pro-metion of three of his countrymen, who all followd me in the sleigh expedition and obeyed with pleasure the orders given by myself, my representatives and the ice pilot. WAITED ON GOV. STONE. Committee Urges Him to Call Session of the Legislature. Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 4 .- Gov. Stone was waited upon by a committee from the state legislative board of railroad employes of Pennsylvania this afternoon and requested to take immediate steps to bring about a settlement of the strike in the anthracite regions, and if necessary call an extra session of the legislature for the enactment of a compulsory arbitration law.

The committee presented statement setting forth that the strike causing much distress among the anthracite miners and their families, hardship to millions of people and prov-ing disastrous to the business interests of the state. The committee stated that railroad employes depend upon the coal traffic for four-fifths of their living and that they were not making as good wages as before the strike. He said the board was preparing a bill which its members believed would end the strike and prevent strikes in the future if it should become a law.

Gov. Stone replied that if, by calling a special session of the legislature, a law could be passed that would be constitutional and would settle the strike and prevent others, he would not hesitate to call a special session.

Gov. Stone also said he regarded the strike as of sufficient public interest to justify an extra session of the legislature if it would solve the difficulty, but he would not call a special session in the interest of speculation or for political effect if no satisfactory law
